According to the Clean Air Consultation paper for NSW, to solve the problem of contaminated air, one needs to know the contribution, source and nature of the offending emissions. One of which in your categories is the 'Off road vehicle section'...Marine Vessels! In the case of the White Bay cruise terminal, we do indeed know, sulphur and other harmful carcinogens that the residents and city folk alike are breathing, almost daily at the moment.

As in so many other parts of the world, the ONLY solution is Shore to Ship power, (Electrical Connection cabinets.), see Janneau, Alaska, San Francisco, the Baltics ports and others.

I ask you to start looking at what others can do and yet NSW refuses to do, namely, give us what nature intended, clean air.

Yours sincerely,
Liesje van der Weyden.
